

Support or Oppose plans for setting a Timetable for withdrawing some U.S. troops from Iraq by the beginning of 2009 by Party Identification

Support or Opposition to plans for setting a Timetable for withdrawing some U.S. troops from Iraq by the beginning of 2009	Party Identification
	Democrat	Independent	Republican
STRONGLY OPPOSE	16 7.7%	23 15.9%	45 23.9%
OPPOSE	15 7.2%	12 8.3%	37 19.7%
SUPPORT	63 30.3%	47 32.4%	57 30.3%
STRONGLY SUPPORT	114 54.8%	63 43.4%	49 26.1%
Total (541, +/-4.3%)	208 100.0%	145 100.0%	188 100.0%

Note: Overall sample size is 664 (+/-3.88%). Data are weighted to reflect the adult population in terms of gender. For this question, the sample is 541 (+/-4.3%) as these results exclude those respondents that answered "don't know" or "refused" (or another available selection) to question on party identification or troop withdrawal; this explains the discrepancy between the survey total and the question total.

Support or Oppose plans for setting a Timetable for withdrawing some U.S. troops from Iraq by the summer of 2008 by Party Identification

Support or Oppose plans for setting a Timetable for withdrawing some U.S. troops from Iraq by the summer of 2008 by Party Identification	Party Identification
	Democrat	Independent	Republican
STRONGLY OPPOSE	9 4.3%	21 14.4%	45 24.1%
OPPOSE	19 9.2%	15 10.3%	57 30.5%
SUPPORT	68 32.9%	48 32.9%	50 26.7%
STRONGLY SUPPORT	111 53.6%	62 42.5%	35 18.7%
Total (540, +/-4.3%)	207 100.0%	146 100.0%	187 100.0%

Note: Overall sample size is 664 (+/-3.88%). Data are weighted to reflect the adult population in terms of gender. For this question, the sample is 540 (+/-4.3%) as these results exclude those respondents that answered "don't know" or "refused" (or another available selection) to question on party identification or troop withdrawal; this explains the discrepancy between the survey total and the question total.